ABOUT ME

Arriving in the Netherlands as a refugee in December 2020 marked the beginning of a journey for me. A journey not just towards safety and stability, but also towards finding a career that truly aligns with my passions and aptitudes. Through introspection and exploration, I made the deliberate decision to pivot from my background in food engineering to the realm of software development. My reason for making this decision was the belief that in the field of software, I can nurture myself amidst various novelties and the notion that always being in a state of learning will keep me more vibrant.
